Depart:	Daily

This excursion will take you to visit:

The Golden Buddha Temple, which well known in the name of "Wat Trimit" this temple located one of the most beautiful Golden Buddha which was made from very high percent of gold in meditation Buddha

This temple was built around 1832. It was formerly named Wat Sam Chin (Three Chinese Temple), after three Chinese donors who contributed their properties to build the temple in 1939. Its name was changed to Wat Traimit Wittayaram and became a royal temple in 1956. The Buddha image named Sukhothai Traimit located inside the Wiharn (Hall of Worship) belongs to Sukhothai period, presumably made during the reign of King Ramkhamhaeng the Great (1277-1317). The image was moved from Wat Mahathat in Sukhothai to Wat Chotinarom (Wat Phrayakrai) during the reign of King Rama III. Then it was shifted to this temple and stored in the pavilion before moving to the present location in 1955. Reverend Phra Visutha-thibordee, the late abbot whose image is in the sitting position in front of this temple, joined in the construction of the temple building for the Golden Buddha Image to be enshrined. When the building was completed and while preparations were being made to move this Golden Buddha Image to the building, the lime covering of the image was cracked revealing the gilded golden Buddha image inside. The entire covering was then removed. Only then did the people realize that it was a Golden Buddha Image. Part of the covering plaster is also on display inside the temple building. Originally, this Golden Buddha Image was completely covered with plaster to conceal it from the enemy then invading Thailand and was installed as the principal Buddha image in the main temple building of Choti-naram Temple or Wat Phrayakrai, Yannawa District, Bangkok in the third reign of the Chakri Dynasty in the Ratansakosin era.

The Marble Temple, or Wat Benchamabophit is one of the most beautiful temples of Thailand. Built by the order of King Rama V in 1899, its ordination hall was built of white Carrara Italian marble. The engineer and architect were Italians namely Carlo Allegri and Mario Tamagno in that order. Standing in front of the ordination hall, you will enjoy an impressive view of the light-coloured marble building with a graceful multi-tiered roof covered with yellow glazed tiles, and a pair of white marble lions standing guard at its front door. Enshrined in the ordination hall is the presiding Buddha image Phra Phuttha Chinnarat. It is a bronze replica of the original statue of the Sukhothai Period (1238-1438) which is still enshrined in Wat Phra Si Rattana Mahathat in Phitsanulok Province in the north of Thailand.

H/D Grand Palace Tour

Destination:	Bangkok	Start City:	Bangkok	End City:	Bangkok
Duration:	Half-Day	Private:	09.00-13.00hrs & 13.00-17.00hrs	S.I.C.:	09.00-13.00hrs.
Depart:	Daily

This excursion will take you to visit:

The Grand Palace The construction of The Grand Palace began in 1782 during the reign of King Rama I, THE FOUNDER OF Chakri Dynasty, to become a royal residence, and it has the utmost architectural symbol of Thailand ever since. The Grand Palace served as a significant royal resident until 1925 and is now used for ceremonial purposes only. You can visit The Royal Pantheon, Chakri Maha Prasat, Borom Phiman Hall, and The Audience Hall of Amarindra Vinitchai, Coronation Hall.

The Grand palace is divided into three main zones: The Outer Court, Home to royal offices, public buildings and the Temple of Emerald Buddha. The Middle Court, which is where the most important residential and state buildings are. The Inner Court which is exclusively reserved for the king, his queen and his consorts.

The Emerald Buddha Temple or "Wat Phra Sri Rattana Satsadaram Temple" is renowned as the most beautiful and important Buddhist temple in Thailand. It houses Pra Kaeo Morakot (The Emerald Buddha), the most highly revered Buddha Image carved fro a single block of Fine Jade ,which you can see a parton, Murral Paintings, The Statues of Demon-Guardians, The Golden Stupa and show. It is not know for sure when the Emerald Buddha was carved however judging from the appearance and style one could conclude it was carved in Northern Thailand not much earlier than the fifteenth century. On the other hand, the Emerald Buddha, which is in an attitude of meditation, looks much like some of the Buddha images of Southern India and Sri Lanka. This attitude of meditation has never been popular in other Thai carvings of Buddha images so one might assign the origin to one of the aforementioned countries

The Temple of the Emerald Buddha is the most sacred structure in the Kingdom and the repository of the spirit for all the Thai people. The history of the Emerald Buddha itself dates back more than 600 years and also represents the struggle of the Thai people to maintain their independence from foreign aggressors.

When King Rama I established Bangkok, or Rattanakosin, as his capital in 1782 he added the Temple of the Emerald Buddha in the eastern section of the Royal Grand Palace in order to install the Emerald Buddha. During its two hundred year history the Chapel had undergone several renovations, restorations, and additions. The Royal Chapel thus incorporates no less than two centuries of Rattanakosin craftsmanship which is an expression of the essential entity of the Thai people.

H/D Damnernsaduak Floating Market

Destination:	Samuth -songkram	Start City:	Bangkok	End City:	Bangkok
Duration:	Half-Day	Private:	06.30-13.00hrs.	S.I.C.:	06.00-13.00hrs.
Depart:	Daily

This excursion will take you to visit

Damnernsaduak Floating Market is active every day, but only in the morning. . The best time to visit is from 07:00 a.m - 11:00 a.m. The vendors, wearing traditional farmer dresses and hats, are mostly local peasants that bring in their things to sell on their rowing boats. On and along the canal, you can find delicious Thai food, wide variety of tropical fruits and vegetable and many colorful home-made products - A very pleasant scene to see and remember! You should not miss the opportunity to experience by yourself sitting and eating on one of these rowing boats on the canal. (More details)

You will have experience on long-tailed boat ride for about 30 minutes, passing through remote plantations and Thai villages along the river and winding canal. At the floating market of Damnernsaduak, it is amazing to see a lively market scene of local vendors selling local foods, tropical fruits, and numerous handicraft products on their boats.

Carry on with the visit to Royal Thai Handicraft Center where you can see Thai artisans work on precious teak woods into impressive wood carvings

The Damnernsaduak Floating Market is located at Damnern Saduak District, Ratchaburi Province, about 105 kms (65 miles) from Bangkok. According to history around 1866 King Rama IV ordered that a 32 kms long canal be dug at Damnernsaduak. This canal would connect the Mae Klong River with the Tachine River. The excellent quality soil beside the canal is very fertile and suitable for growing many kinds of fruits and vegetables. The area is famous for Malacca grape, Chinese grapefruit, mangoes, bananas, and coconut.

The Damnoen Saduak Floating Market is a very attractive place for tourists to see the old style and traditional way of selling and buying fruits, vegetables, etc., from small boats. Tourists will also see traditional Thai houses, the way they live and travel by boats, and please try riding on a small boat to experience the floating market and to see more. This is a worthwhile trip.

After lunch proceed to Wat Pa Luangta Bua Temple, which well-known as "The Tiger Temple" Apart from giving a home to the savage beasts like tigers, the monks nurture wild pigs, deer, antelopes, water buffalos, apes and a handful of other animals, so the temple is now recognized as a wildlife sanctuary.

Every afternoon, tigers will be taken to the canyon and tourists can get nose to nose and have photographs taken with them. The wildlife rescue project here was started in 1999 when an orphaned female Indochinese cub was given to the temple. Her mother was killed by poachers and the baby itself was to be stuffed. But, the poor little cub was miraculously survived from the injection of preservative formalin. Though frail and terrified, the animal was cured and recovered. Since then more orphaned and injured tigers have been sent to the temple.

Duration:	FullDay	Private:	08.00-17.00hrs	S.I.C.:	08.00-17.00
Depart:	Daily

This excursion will take you to visit "Ayuthaya" The old capital city of Thailand, in particular was a flourishing and prosperous capital. It remained an important city in Thailand for 417 years and during this period an abundance of palaces and temples were constructed as a token of its economic success. The ruins of temples and palace of Ayuthaya, whether naturally worn by time or destroyed by activities of war, are reflection of golden and glorious past.

Depart Bangkok by Air-conditioned coach to Ayutthaya – on the way take you past lush green paddy fields and areas of industrial expansion. Upon arrival you will come face to face with bygone glories and grandeur of our former capital, despite the ravages of time and human destruction, the ruin of the palaces, temples and pagodas still offer a glimpse of their splendid past. The attraction place that will take you to visit

"Bang Pa-In Summer Palace" was first used by the royal court as a summer retreat in the 17th century. However, the palace was destroyed with the fall of kingdom of Ayuthaya and was restored by King Rama IV in the mid of 19th Century. Most of the buildings that exist today date from the reign of King Rama V, who regularly spent his summer there.

"Wat Phanchoeng Temple" This monastery is the most revered by the inhabitants of Ayuthaya

"Wat Yai Chaimongkhon Temple" you can see the large pagodas, built to celebrate the victory of his single handed combat on the elephant's back during Ayuthaya Capital

"Wihan Phra Mongkhon Bophit" Phra Mongkhon Bophit, a large bronze cast Buddha image was originally enshrined in the open area outside the Grand Palace and later covered by a building in the reign of King Sontham. During the fall of Ayuthaya, the building was badly destroyed by fire. The one currently seen was reconstructed, but does not have as beautiful craftsmanship as the previous one. The open area east of the sanctuary was where the royal cremation ceremonies took place.

"Wat Phra Si Sanphet Temple" the most important temple within the Royal Palace compound and the original from which the temple of the Emerald Buddha in Bangkok has been copied. Three outstanding Ceylonese style pagodas were built during the 15th century to enshrine the ashes of three Ayuthaya Kings

SIAM NIRAMIT SHOW (NO DINNER)

Destination:	Bangkok	Start City:	Bangkok	End City:	Bangkok
Duration:	Night Tour	Private:	On Requested	S.I.C.:	18.00-22.00hrs.
Depart:	Daily

Siam Niramit – Thailand's must - see show, One of the largest stage show in the world – Spectacular show of Thai Art and culture – Amazing Special Effect Using Stage-of-the-art-technology & Top Quality Family Entertainment
Siam Niramit is a world-class performance of Thailand's arts and cultural heritage. This must-see spectacular show is performed on the gigantic stage listed in the Guinness World Records! The show features over 100 performers, lavish costumes and stunning set designs. Enhanced special effects and the world's most advanced technology are used to produce a very realistic, stimulating and inspiring experience.

Act 1: Journey Back to History, for over seven centuries, Siam has been home of diverse cultures, a cross-road where civilizations meet. In Act I, Siam Niramit takes you back to the past to witness...

Scene 1 The North - The Ancient Kingdom of Lana We begin the journey in the ancient Kingdom of Lanna, in northern Thailand, where the King and Queen lead a lantern lit procession to pay homage to Buddha relics enshrined in the revered Chedi at Chiengman Temple. The Maids of Honour dance gracefully as they carry the lanterns, and the royal Guard display their ceremonial swordsmanship

Scene 2 The South Sea – Traders from overseas Here we witness an important time in Thailand's history, when trade from overseas brought not just wealth but artistic and religious influences from other nations. We see the Buddhist Thais blending harmoniously with traders from overseas and helping to integrate them into Thai culture

Scene 3 Issan, the North-East Legacy of Khmer Civilization We see villagers enjoying dances based on their rural lifestyles in North-eastern Thailand. Having danced all night before the revered Prasart Khao Phanom Rung the sun rises and sunlight streams through the door of the ruined temple, magically bringing the elaborately carved statues to life

Scene 4 The Central Plains – Ayuthaya, the Mighty Capital Set in the period when Ayuthaya was the nation's capital, and Siam was beginning to develop relations with Western nations, we see ordinary people striving to make a living along the waterways of the plains of central Thailand surrounding Ayuthaya. The work is hard but the land is fertile and the waters well stocked with fish. In this scene we see the contrast between the simple way of life of the farmers and the opulent life of the Royal Court as exemplified by magnificent procession of Royal Barges

Act 2: Journey Beyond Imagination Despite the diverse cultures and livelihood, Thai people are all bound by a common belief in the religious principle of the Law of Karma. The good deeds or bad deeds in this world will result in merit or suffering in the next life.

Scene 1 Fiery Hell, where the flames are fuelled by peoples sins, is ruled by Phrayom. He ensures that the condemned souls receive punishment that matches the nature and gravity of their crimes. Liars have their tongues torn out; alcoholics are forced to drink from a cauldron of boiling water; adulterers must climb a tree bristling with sharp thorns...

Scene 2 Himapaan is a mystical forest that exists at the boundary between our earthly realm and heaven. This beautiful and mysterious forest is populated by magical creatures such as kinaree (half woman-half bird), and nareepon (beautiful girls born from trees as fruit)... In this scene we see Mekala & Ramasoon, demi-gods who are believed in Thai mythology to be the progenitors of lightning and thunder.

Scene 3 Blissful Heaven Lord Indra, the God of Gods, presides over Blissful Heaven from his seat atop Mount Phrasumera, at the centre of the universe. As he awaits the arrival of a consort, he is serenaded with celestial music by the divas and angels who accompany him everywhere to serve and entertain him.

Act3: Journey Through Joyous Festivals Thai Buddhists believe that to go to heaven, one must gather merit on earth. Thai culture is full of a wide variety of merit-making festivals, which combine religious ceremony with colourful and joyful celebration.

Act 1: Journey Back to History, for over seven centuries, Siam has been home of diverse cultures, a cross-road where civilizations meet. In Act I, Siam Niramit takes you back to the past to witness...

Scene 1 The North - The Ancient Kingdom of Lana We begin the journey in the ancient Kingdom of Lanna, in northern Thailand, where the King and Queen lead a lantern lit procession to pay homage to Buddha relics enshrined in the revered Chedi at Chiengman Temple. The Maids of Honour dance gracefully as they carry the lanterns, and the royal Guard display their ceremonial swordsmanship

Scene 2 The South Sea – Traders from overseas Here we witness an important time in Thailand's history, when trade from oversea brought not just wealth but artistic and religious influences from other nations. We see the Buddhist Thais blending harmoniously with traders from overseas and helping to integrate them into Thai cultrre

Scene 3 Issan, the North-East Legacy of Khmer Civilization We see villagers enjoyng dances based on their rural lifestyles in North-eastern Thailand. Having danced all night before the revered Prasart Khao Phanom Rung the sun rises and sunlight streams through the door of the ruined temple, magically bringing the elaborately carved statues to life

Scene 4 The Central Plains – Ayuthaya, the Mighty Capital Set in the period when Ayuthaya was the nation's capital, and Siam was beginning to develop relations with Western nations, we see ordinary people striving to make a living along the waterways of the plains of central Thailand surrounding Ayuthaya. The work is hard but the land is fertile and the waters well stocked with fish. In this scene we see the contrast between the simple way of life of the farmers and the opulent life of the Royal Court as exemplified by magnificent procession of Royal Barges

Act 2: Journey Beyond Imagination Despite the diverse cultures and livelihood, Thai people are all bound by a common belief in the religious principle of the Law of Karma. The good deeds or bad deeds in this world will result in merit or suffering in the next life.

Scene 1 Fiery Hell, where the flames are fuelled by peoples sins, is ruled by Phrayom. He ensures that the condemned souls receive punishment that matches the nature and gravity of their crimes. Liars have their tongues torn out; alcoholics are forced to drink from a cauldron of boiling water; adulterers must climb a tree bristling with sharp thorns...

Scene 2 Himapaan is a mystical forest that exists at the boundary between our earthly realm and heaven. This beautiful and mysterious forest is populated by magical creatures such as kinaree (half woman-half bird), and nareepon (beautiful girls born from trees as fruit)... In this scene we see Mekala & Ramasoon, demi-gods who are believed in Thai mythology to be the progenitors of lightning and thunder.
